

The Poise of the Feet in the Shoe!

The Shoe that fits right means mental equilibrium—bodily comfort. An ill apportioned shoe destroys the balance of the body—injures the health—obliterates contentment of mind. Shoes scientifically constructed spell comfort—impart comfort. We have the Shoes that will give you absolute satisfaction. Not one line, a pet make to push the detriment of others, but a half-dozen lines, each at a price that represents best value, gives best selection. The lasts in the styles of the day.

Dr. Hunt's Rangum Root LINIMENT

Instantly relieve all Aches and Pains, Increase the circulation, loosen the joints, and bring the system to the point of health. (Consumption and influenza are prevented or quickly removed.)

Cures RHEUMATISM
and NEURALGIA

Without fail, because it neutralizes the poisons in the blood—removes them from the system, and there they are thrown off with the natural waste of the body.

We have hundreds of testimonials from those who have been cured of long standing cases after suffering untold agonies for years.
From those whose stiffened joints have become supple, and whose backs are straight.

From cripples who have been able to throw away their crutches after using this liniment.

You ought to have a bottle of
Dr. Hunt's Rangum Root Liniment in the home. It is a little thing, but it will do a great deal of good.

What a Woman Can Do.

A contemporary tells us, in the northeastern corner of Ohio, the other day, a woman smiled as pain left her racked body—smiled and died, and the mortal part of her was laid away to be forgotten by mankind.

And the thoughts come on life and death, and the reasons for existence, and the measure of success, and how best to live to make living worth while.

Listen! For 40 years a woman was bedridden. Forty years!
How old are you? Perhaps you can estimate the length of the days and the nights that this woman was crippled. Almost a lifetime. Death claimed all but hands and heart and brain, and still left her great power. There are wonderful folks in this good world. They live and do, and make joy for others, even when robbed of health that is priceless.

Beethoven by many is believed to have been the master of music. He was totally deaf.

Robt. Louis Stevenson wrote words that charmed humanity, with disease sapping his strength, and his song was as sweet and true as the notes of a bird.

John Milton wrote "Paradise Lost" when the light had gone out of the windows of his soul, and he sung well and for the ages.

And this woman who suffered for 40 years, who lacked wealth, found joy in helping others.

With nimble fingers she knitted a thousand comforts. She even established libraries; she became the friend of small children who loved to linger at her bedside.
She had learning and she helped those who were backward in education. She was busy every waking hour. The day that a telephone was placed at her bedside and she was able to get in touch with the world, she thanked God fervently for this new evidence of His mercy.

She was always cheerful. She kept her sorrows hidden. She fought the blue days with her sublime faith in her Creator. She smiled. She cheered. There was a world of sunshine in her withered breast and she gave it freely to all.

You cannot measure good by any human rule. It is limitless.
It is as big as space.

And surely, on the great record, opposite the name of this afflicted woman, it must be written in letters of gold: "With love in her heart for all mankind, she served well."—Memphis Scimitar.

Japanese Progress.

According to the United States consul general at Nienchwang, the industrial development of Japan is coincident with rapid strides in the art of advertising.

He reports that the British-

American Tobacco Company and the Japanese government—which deals in cigarettes as a side line-- are engaged in a strenuous campaign for the cigarette trade of Manchuria, and that the little yellow men are giving their occidental competitors cards and spades and yet beating them at the game of publicity. The commercial progress of Japan has been phenomenal. Now that advertising has become a factor in her forward push, the Western nations may have a hard run for their money. Their only relief is in the same medicine the Japs find so beneficial, and more of it.

Lincoln's Fame.

Now that the field of struggle lies clear in the light of memory, and the Blue and the Gray are honored alike in all the celebrations of courage and devotion, the spiritual presence of Lincoln grows more distinct and commanding. Dying on the threshold of the new day, with the passions of an age of deep and radical misunderstandings still hot about him, he was the prophet of a future now happily become a living present. When, a few months ago, the President of the United States, standing at the base of the Lee monument in Richmond, said to the little group of veterans in faded Confederate uniforms, "Come up nearer," he was not only speaking for the whole North, but, forty years after Lincoln's death, he was using Lincoln's voice and fulfilling Lincoln's purpose.

The President of a section by force of a passing disintegration, Lincoln was always in feeling and spirit the Magistrate of a Nation. In the light of later history not only does the beauty of his spirit reveal itself as one of the noblest possessions of the country, but the wisdom of his statesmanship becomes more clear. For it is love, not hate, which clarifies the vision, and a great generosity is a safer guide in public affairs than the most keen-sighted and calculating prudence.—Outlook.

A HEALING GOSPEL.

The Rev. J. C. Warren, pastor of Sharon Baptist Church, Belair, Ga., says of Electric Bitters: "It's a Godsend to mankind. It cured me of lame back, stiff joints, and complete physical collapse. I was so weak it took me half an hour to walk a mile. Two bottles of Electric Bitters have made me so strong I have just walked three miles in 50 minutes and feel like walking three more. It's made a new man of me." Greatest remedy for weakness and all Stomach, Liver and Kidney complaints.
Sold under guarantee at R. S. Wholesale Drug Store. Price 50c.

Texas Sulphur.

Another revelation comes from Texas. Ten million tons of sulphur have been found in the Transpecos region, the sulphur fields extending over about 10,- 000 acres, with a thickness averaging nine and one-half feet.
The ore is the result of natural chemical conditions produced during the lacustrine period, which was one of the phenomena of the arid sections of Texas during the pliocene age, and its appearance to mortal gaze in the twentieth century is expected to stay the hand of the importer for twenty years to come. In importation of native sulphur from Italy and other countries amounts to from 80,000 to 200,000 tons per year. So large has been the demand for sulphur—50,000 tons being consumed in one year—that the substitution of iron pyrites has been resorted to in the manufacture of sulphuric acid. With 19,000,000 tons of 40 per cent native ore sulphur to hand, certain manufacturing processes, it is expected, will be reduced 20 per cent and the present rate of importing will be offset for twenty years.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A great delicacy in Florida, according to the Cleveland Leader, is the tip of an alligator's tail.
It tastes like frog legs, though a bit more gamey. Alligator tails are best just after the ricebird season. The big alligators float in the water with only their eyes showing. When they see a flock of these fat, juicy little birds they dive to the bottom. Their long, wide snout scoops up some of the loam and they float to the surface again with just the rich soil showing. The birds think it is an island. They alight upon it.
When the whole family is there the big reptile turns suddenly.
Just as the birds scramble off he opens his mouth once. They are gone. The birds are neat little feeders, and the alligator is an epicure at this season of the year. The ricebird diet makes the tip of his tail, of which he is most vain, tender and sweet.

Investments.

Why don't you invest a little each month in the Lintonia Building and Loan Association? There is no better way to save money. Decide how much you want to lay aside each month, and take out stock in this Association accordingly. Each share of stock is worth $100.00 at maturity.
We calculate that our stock will mature in about seven and one-half years, by keeping all the money at work. The monthly installment on one share of stock is seventy cents.
Suppose you take out five shares.
You pay in every month $3.50. You do not miss it, but on maturity of your stock you have FIVE HUN-DRED DOLLARS. You can take out as many shares as you are able to pay the monthly dues on. Suppose you take out 15 shares. Your dues are $15.00 each month, and when your stock matures, you have FIF-TEEN HUNDRED DOLLARS.

You can pay a year in advance on your stock and get a discount. Or you can pay in advance as many years as you desire and get a proportionate discount.
